The Ties That Bind Budget Principles

We believe that the budget is a moral document that should meet the needs of all South Carolinians.

We believe we must provide all children access to high quality public education and health care.

We believe we must provide adults opportunities for productive employment and continued education that enables them to provide for their families and community.

We believe we must provide seniors safe environments, transportation and quality health care.

We believe small businesses are essential to our communities and that we must provide them every opportunity to grow and excel.

We believe good health care is something all South Carolinians should be able to afford.

The Ties That Bind Coalition is a diverse group of community, labor, and faith-inspired organizations who believe in good jobs, good schools, and good government.
